A Letter from the President

Dear Tigers,

A huge welcome to the best fraternity community in the nation! It's truly an honor to extend a friendly greeting to all of you embarking on this thrilling recruitment journey. As you enter this experience, I want you to embrace it with an open mind, for the weeks ahead will include some of the best moments of your college years!

I am now a senior at Mizzou, and every time I think of my recruitment journey, it fills me with overwhelming joy and gratitude. When I first arrived in 2021, the idea of joining a fraternity hadn't even crossed my mind, let alone run for leadership in the community. However, everything changed the moment I met my brothers. Their contagious joy and unwavering commitment to my well-being left an unforgettable mark on me, shaping the person I am today.

Whether cheering me on during my triumphs or offering comfort during moments of grief, my brothers always stood by my side with open arms and invaluable advice. Their presence enriched my college experience and gave me a profound sense of belonging and support that I'll forever treasure. I truly cannot imagine college without them and my fraternity.

That's why I'm delighted you're interested in experiencing brotherhood, service, leadership, and scholarship with us. If I could give you one piece of advice for your recruitment journey, it would be to be yourself.

Trust me, you will find your home here and will meet your best man in your wedding, your child's future uncle, and your new family.

As you meet countless individuals during your recruitment journey, remember that the outcome lies within your hands. This experience is what you make of it, and I wholeheartedly believe that everything happens for a reason, including how you feel right now as you read this letter! So please, take notes, smile, take care of yourself, and welcome to our community!

Your President and Friend,

Johnathan Martinez

President of the Interfraternity Council Executive Board

A Letter from the Vice President of Inclusion and Brotherhood

There are four different councils within Fraternity & Sorority Life that have different values and historical backgrounds. It's my pleasure to work with the Panhellenic Association, National-Panhellenic Council, and Multicultural Greek Council, as we strive to unite and work together to build off of our similarities, and celebrate each other's differences.

I am so happy you have decided to look into the IFC as an opportunity for growth, empowerment, and belonging to a great community. Being a part of the IFC makes Mizzou's large student body feel smaller, which inherently makes everyone feel more connected to each other and to the University. College is a time in which everyone finds themselves, and other people around them that they will have in their lives forever. IFC is a great step and facilitator of making this happen.

We know that this journey can provoke a variety of emotions. Excitement, wonder, fear, etc. Just know that we all went through the same thing, and we are all so happy that we did! As a first-generation college student, I had only heard of the stereotypes of Fraternity & Sorority Life. But, I am so happy that I took the chance on it because I have not regretted my decision once! I wish all of you the best experience possible, and I can't wait to meet all of you throughout this process!

Jaden Black

Vice President of Inclusion
and Brotherhood

Hello Everyone!

Welcome to the Mizzou community, a place where we hope you find your home away from home. I'm excited you have decided to explore Fraternity & Sorority Life. This is a long-lasting community of people who want to grow in leadership, personal, and professional skills. The Interfraternity Council (IFC) is comprised of many chapters that have an abundance of both similarities and differences, all of which the community strives to celebrate.

My position is Inclusion and Brotherhood. This applies to every aspect of this community on all levels, individual chapters, campus organizations, and the governing councils. Here at Mizzou, everything is student-led, so it's important that we reflect the student body's values on an organizational level. Everything we do is to improve brotherhood, and the way to do that is to be inclusive to all people.

A Letter from the Vice President of Membership Development

Hello and welcome to Mizzou!

I am so excited that you have considered exploring Fraternity and Sorority Life and I hope that this viewbook is an advantageous resource to help you better navigate the formal recruitment process. The Interfraternity Council can expose you to an abundance of new opportunities and experiences, and I strongly encourage you to capitalize on these opportunities and experiences as they can lead to some of your best memories and create everlasting friendships.

After you complete the formal recruitment process, you will attend New Member Orientation. This seminar will provide you with insights into your expectations as a member of the Greek community and will also provide you with tips and tricks to succeed and thrive within this community. The more you put in, the more you will get out, so I highly recommend that you come ready to learn and ask questions as they arise.

Joining a fraternity is an excellent way to get involved on campus, but the IFC possesses many other involvement opportunities for our members. Some of these include the IFC Task Force: a group dedicated to developing a strategic plan to enact positive change within the community; the IFC Judicial Board: a governing body that ensures the upholding of community standards; and the Rho Gamma program: mentors and leaders selected to guide prospective new members through the recruitment process, among other opportunities. All these groups work to uphold and maintain the four core values of the IFC: Brotherhood, Service, Leadership, and Scholarship. The IFC is full of opportunities for personal growth and development and it is imperative that you take full advantage of the programs and initiatives in place to maximize the benefits you receive.

As you take this leap into joining our community, please know that I am so excited for you and that I am both a resource and a friend. My door is always open and I would love to answer any questions that you ever have. My fraternity experience has been nothing short of phenomenal and I hope you find the right place for you to have the best experience. I can't wait to meet you and wish you the best!

About the Interfraternity Council

About IFC

The Interfraternity Council is a community of men gathered around common interests, goals, and values. Each member takes his own meaning from his experience. One may discover their leadership potential as a chapter or council executive. Another may find a new aptitude for academic pursuits or take satisfaction in serving his chapter or his community through his fraternity's philanthropic efforts. But they all gain lifelong friendships and a large support system.

Meet THE COUNCILS

All four councils within the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life work together as one community to support one another in everything we do.

Multicultural Greek Council (MGC)

The MGC is the governing council of multicultural-based organizations, including historically Latino/ Latina and Asian sororities and fraternities at the University of Missouri. They are not cultural- or identity- exclusive and are open to individuals of all identities and backgrounds. MGC strives to create and maintain an all-inclusive and culturally diverse environment by fostering cultural awareness and upholding fraternal and sororal values.

Follow @MIZZOUMGC.

National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC)

National Pan-Hellenic Council, Inc. (NPHC) is the governing council of the “Divine Nine,” which is a collaborative umbrella council composed of the largest historically Black fraternities and sororities. NPHC encourages a diverse membership of students and is responsible for immense social and economic change in our community. Follow @MIZZOUNPHC.

Panhellenic Association (PHA)

The Panhellenic Association (PHA) is the governing body of recognized National Panhellenic Conference (NPC) sororities. An executive board of sorority women work year-round to promote unity within the sororities, through weekly delegation, frequent events for the whole PHA community, hosting formal recruitment each year, and much more. The executive board works to promote the four Mizzou Panhellenic values, which are the common threads that unites all our sorority women. Follow @MIZZOUPHA.

Involvement OPPORTUNITIES

For more than 150 years, fraternity men have helped support and celebrate the University of Missouri. Pride in the community's involvement in Mizzou's oldest traditions is reflected in how they continually strive to build on those traditions and better serve the community.

Homecoming

Each year, fraternities and sororities team up to celebrate Homecoming. Chapter houses display elaborate decorations. The chapters' floats are an integral part of the annual Homecoming parade.

Greek Week

Each spring semester, fraternities and sororities host a week of friendly competition. Through games, contests and sports, the annual celebration brings the entire fraternity and sorority community closer together. The week-long event gives chapters the opportunity to display their talents, skills and strengths. Mizzou's fraternities and sororities lead the nation in spring blood drive participation.

Additional Involvement

Fraternities serve as gateways to involvement in the broader community. Many brothers are also members and leaders within the multitude of student-led organizations at Mizzou, including Tour Team, the Alumni Association Student Board, the Missouri Students Association, the Associated Students of the University of Missouri, and the Missouri International Student Council.

Philanthropy & Service EFFORTS

Service is one of IFC's core values. That is why fraternity chapters sponsor projects to address the needs of Mizzou and the local community.

Each year, chapters contribute thousands of volunteer hours to supporting charitable organizations. Some fraternities help local organizations, such as the Food Bank for Central & Northeast Missouri or the Thompson Center for Autism and Neurodevelopmental Disorders. Other fraternities help national organizations such as St. Jude Children's Research Hospital or the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society.

IFC Recruitment Counselors

Rho Gammas

The Rho Gammas are an integral part of your recruitment experience at the University of Missouri. These community leaders hail from many of our chapters and have applied and interviewed for these positions. Most importantly, Rho Gammas serve as primary resources before, during, and after the formal recruitment process. Many Rho Gammas were in your shoes just a year or two ago. They are well equipped to answer questions, speak to the IFC experience, listen to your thoughts and concerns, and provide general guidance for you to make informed decisions.

When you check in for recruitment you will be assigned to an IFC Rho Gamma group that will have several other students participating in recruitment and a Rho Gamma. You will have a meeting in the morning of each day to connect with your group, ask questions, and get ready for the day. In the evenings, you will have a wrap up meeting to reflect on the day, discuss experiences, and ask questions. This gives you the opportunity to meet many wonderful people to start your first days at the University of Missouri. Some members from your Rho Gamma group may even become your friends, no matter where they end up in the community!

VALUES

Brotherhood

Fraternities and sororities represent thousands of students at Mizzou, and this group of students builds a unique community atmosphere that has thrived at Mizzou for years. Members of the fraternity and sorority community are exposed to many different personalities, interests, and challenges beneficial for social growth while forming lifelong friendships. The bonds you develop with other members in your chapter are more than just friendships. Members support each other through challenges, and older brothers and sisters encourage and foster growth in new members. Friendships developed in college will continue to flourish even after you graduate. Every chapter has an alumni network to assist members in adjusting to new communities, whether it is finding employment or offering personal friendship based on the common experience of membership in your organization.

Leadership

Fraternity life provides students with a variety of leadership opportunities. Members may participate in fraternity governance as a chapter officer or by serving on one of the many committees and subcommittees that each chapter maintains. In addition, leadership programs and conferences within each fraternity at the local, regional, and national level also provide an opportunity for members to sharpen their leadership skills.

Scholarship

Historically, fraternities and sororities were founded on the principles of academic success and camaraderie. Today, our fraternities and sororities continue to strive for academic excellence. Our members realize that academic achievement is the main priority of Mizzou students. Chapters promote scholarship by providing academic resources for their members including tutoring, academic advisors, study groups and scholarships. Chapter members often work with new students to help their adjustment to their new surroundings, and specifically the rigors of university academics. Many chapters have a reward system based on GPA. Prospective members must meet a minimum GPA to be initiated and then must maintain a minimum GPA to remain an active member.

Service

The fraternity and sorority community addresses the needs of both the City of Columbia and the University communities by sponsoring service and philanthropic projects. Each chapter dedicates itself to worthy local causes and national/international philanthropies, donating their time and fund-raising efforts to help others. The ability to touch the lives of others through your efforts will undoubtedly be one of the more memorable experiences you will have as a member of a fraternity or sorority. This past year our community donated thousands of volunteer hours providing services and funding for local charitable organizations such as Special Olympics, American Heart Association, Children's Miracle Network, and the Salvation Army.

Alpha Kappa Lambda members work with multiple organizations that help groups of people in need. First, we work with True North of Columbia to create events under the name of “These hands don’t hurt” to engage the community of Mizzou to raise money to end domestic violence. In the beginning of the spring semester, Alpha Kappa Lambda hosts Alpha Kappuccino’s where our fraternity goes to Speaker’s Circle on campus to raise money by serving coffee, cappuccinos, and hot chocolate to our community. This is for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation which is an organization that urges to change the outlook on individuals with Cystic Fibrosis and to support children with this disease. Lastly, we support Adopt-A-School that provides relationships between college students and local elementary schools by allowing college students to give back to community by supporting elementary school children. Additionally, Alpha Kappa Lambda hosts events that involve carnival activities to engage our campus and community to support Adopt-A-School. Nationally, our brotherhood supports people to speak out against domestic violence, give back to our local elementary schools, and increase activism of individuals with Cystic Fibrosis.

Delta Tau Delta’s National Philanthropy is Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF). JDRF funds Type 1 Diabetes research and so much more for the T1D community. Being a man of Delta Tau Delta allows you the opportunity to support and contribute funding to the T1D research that JDRF does through events that we hold throughout the year. In the Spring semester, we hold an event called ‘Taters for Tots’ which is a late-night dinner that members of our community purchase tickets to attend, and we also ‘Dunk-a-Delt’ that night using a dunk tank to provide another exciting way to raise money for this amazing cause. We are excited to continue to grow our philanthropic presence on campus as well as help raise awareness and add to the funding of JDRF’s T1D research in the years to come!

Delta Upsilon

“Justice our Foundation.”

The Global Service Initiative (GSI) serves a dual role for Delta Upsilon; our international philanthropy and an international service project. Since 2011, DU and GSI have taken students to Jamaica for a service immersion trip where they are engaged in direct, hands-on service. While in Jamaica, GSI participants immerse themselves in the culture, interact with locals, provide manual labor for various construction projects and participate in the daily discussion facilitated by trained DU staff. These discussions center on global competencies and connecting the GSI experience to personal and DU values. Each DU chapter is asked to raise money for the program. This year the chapter held a free car wash and collected over $1,000 in tips to help the cause. In addition to our international work, the chapter was active again this year through participation in Homecoming, Greek Week and various fraternal events of other chapters. These activities supported a host of deserving beneficiaries. One unique activity was participation in the inaugural Day Dreams Bowl, a football game of four chapters organized to raise money for the Day Dreams Foundation. The foundation supports children ages 5-18 in the Columbia area by eliminating financial barriers to participation in extracurricular activities and promoting healthy life styles, goal setting, academic teamwork and respect for others. The event raised over $35,000.

We understand that philanthropy and service are incredibly meaningful components of Greek life, and we always strive to make a meaningful impact within our community. Our national philanthropy, the Live Like Lou Foundation, raises awareness and funds to combat ALS, also known as Lou Gehrig’s Disease, named after our esteemed alum Lou Gehrig. The Iron Phi challenge inspires our brothers to push their limits, raising $1,000 for the foundation and participating in an athletic event of their choice. Additionally, we host a powder puff football tournament, uniting sororities from around campus in raising funds for Live Like Lou. As engaged members of the Greek community, we enthusiastically support and participate in other chapters’ philanthropy events, as well as campus-wide philanthropy events such as Homecoming, Greek Week, and Rockin’ Against Multiple Sclerosis (RAMS). Phi Delt remains steadfast in its commitment to making a positive impact in our community and beyond. Every summer, a chapter can send a delegate to bike from the west coast to the east coast to spread awareness and celebrate the abilities of all people. Our War of the Roses philanthropy week combines efforts from The Journey of Hope to raise awareness here at Mizzou. Brothers of Pi Kappa Phi ride stationary bikes on campus for 34 hours in an event we call “Bike-a-Thon” to raise awareness for the Ability Experience. War of the Roses also serves as a competition amongst sororities where they compete in numerous events to win the competition! In the fall, we hold a philanthropy concert in our backyard to raise money for The Ability Experience. The Electriphi concert brings the campus together to celebrate a fun, philanthropic night in the backyard of Pi Kappa Phi.

Active Member — a member of a sorority or fraternity who has been initiated and is currently an undergraduate

Bid — a formal invitation to join a sorority or fraternity

Chapter — a membership unit of a national or international sorority or fraternity

House Director — Many chapters with a housing facility employ staff on either a part-time or full-time basis. These staff members are employees of the chapter's housing corporation and hold responsibilities for managing the day to day operations of the facility

Informal Recruitment — Informal recruitment is an unstructured, year-round recruitment process coordinated and hosted by individual chapters. Potential new members may interact with chapters, build relationships, and choose to accept a bid should they receive one

Initiate — a person who has recently become an active or initiated member of a sorority or fraternity

Initiation — the formal ritual that brings new members into full membership of the sorority or fraternity. Through initiation, members learn about and pledge themselves to uphold the ideals of the sorority or fraternity

New Member Period — classified as the beginning of one's term in a fraternity or sorority up until the time the member is initiated

Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life (OFSL) — the Office of Fraternity and Life (OFSL) is located in the MU Student Center, suite 2500. OFSL staff offer support and guidance to leaders within the fraternity and sorority community

Philanthropy — 1. A national and/or local charity that a fraternity or a sorority sponsors, donating time and money through service to promote human welfare 2. An event or initiative supporting a local or national charitable cause. Often philanthropy events are hosted to raise monetary resources or awareness

Frequently Asked QUESTIONS

What is Formal Recruitment?

Formal Recruitment is designed for students to interact with many fraternities in a short period of time. This allows students to gain experience with many organizations before deciding to commit to the organization that is best for them. If you decide to go through Formal Recruitment, you will be involved in recruitment events during the daytime in the five days before classes begin. To make the process more comfortable, you will be assigned to a Rho Gamma group with a recruitment guide and other students. Each day of recruitment consists of planned events where you will interact with different chapters of your choosing. For example, the chapter visit days will be a chance for you to meet with several chapters, learn about them, talk to their members, and make relationships. These events will help you figure out the goals, values, and personalities of each chapter. This will help you decide which chapter is best for you. Keep in mind that recruitment is a mutual selection process, so while you decide which chapters you feel most comfortable with, the members in each chapter are also trying to determine which potential new members would fit best into their chapter.

What is a Rho Gamma (Recruitment Guide) and what do they do?

The IFC Rho Gammas are recruitment guides that work with a group of potential new members in IFC Formal Recruitment. They are members of IFC chapters who have agreed to disaffiliate from their chapters to be leaders for the IFC community. Rho Gammas will create GroupMe text groups to keep their group members up to date with information and to be resources during Formal Recruitment.

Is there a grade requirement to join a chapter?

There is no grade requirement set by the IFC to go through Formal Recruitment, but each chapter has its own GPA standards for membership and retention. Because the IFC and each chapter values scholarship, maintaining academics is important to all members. The average GPA for all fraternity men at Mizzou in the Fall 2022 semester was 3.161, which was higher than the all-undergraduate men GPA average.

Are members in different chapters friends with one another?

Mizzou's community of fraternities and sororities has many opportunities for members of different chapters to meet and create friendships. Social, leadership, and service events give members in different fraternities the chance to socialize. Making friends from other fraternities helps strengthen our community. By participating in Formal Recruitment, a PNM can meet members in their Rho Gamma group and can maintain these friendships even after joining different chapters.

How much of a time commitment is being in a fraternity?

Each fraternity has basic time commitments and mandatory events such as chapter meetings and new member meetings once a week. Some chapters require study hours. Homecoming is also a busy time in the fall. Time commitment for being a fraternity member is large and can vary from one chapter to another. But many fraternity members can manage fraternity responsibilities, jobs or internships, academics, and involvement in other campus organizations. If you are interested in joining a fraternity but have concerns about the time commitment, feel free to ask members during recruitment how they balance their time.

What if I go through Formal Recruitment and decide that joining a fraternity is not for me?

If a PNM decides during recruitment that joining a fraternity is not for them, they may withdraw at any time during the process. The IFC encourages PNMs to complete the process and discuss withdrawing with their Rho Gammas. However, the decision to withdraw is determined by the PNM.

Frequently Asked QUESTIONS

How will I know which chapter is right for me?

Each fraternity has its own mission, creed, and values that it lives by. However, overall, IFC organizations strive to provide members with friendship, opportunities for personal and professional growth/development and fun. It is important to reflect on your personal values and how they align with the people, organizations, and leadership you meet. Formal Recruitment is a process designed to allow you and the chapters to decide on the best fit. As you go through recruitment, be sure to keep an open mind, ask questions, and be yourself!

What do my chapter dues pay for?

Dues cover costs associated with fraternity membership, leadership development, and other programs. Living in a chapter facility is a separate fee, but dues are inclusive, in that they cover most every other aspect of joining a fraternity.

Do I have to join as a first semester freshman, or can I wait until the spring or my sophomore/junior year?

You do not have to join as a first semester freshman, but it can be a way to make a large campus smaller. The transition to college from high school can be difficult, and getting involved on campus, especially in a fraternity, can help to ease the transition. Also, many students point to their early involvement in a fraternity as a key factor in developing leadership skills and furthering their campus involvement. If you do decide to join a fraternity after your first year, chapters will take sophomore and upper-class new members. Recruitment happens year-round at the University of Missouri so there are many opportunities to join an IFC chapter.
